

March 2014

Dear Friends of Maryland Ensemble Theatre (MET),

It's time for a Bowl-A-Thon!

You might have seen that the MET is opening up a second stage space! This room is about 2,000 square feet and will house the Fun Company family shows and allow students more opportunities for stage time (both in plays and in improv shows).

For this space, we are in the midst of a $100,000 capital campaign, of which we've raised $67,000! Identifying a fundraiser is important to seeing the timeline through for this important expansion, and it is recognized that it should be something that is FUN. Targeted participants are all of the students at The Ensemble School, as this space will really benefit them immensely, however, the more participants, the merrier, of course, so spread the word.

Here is how it works:

Forms are available at the MET and are sent out via email (hard copies can also be obtained at the MET). Students are to reach out to friends and family members right away to obtain pledges on a "per pin" basis. So, for instance, if the pledge were a dime a pin, and if the student bowled an 86, that would be $8.60. Then, if we bowl 2 games (each with the same number of pins, as an example) - total pledge: $17.20. Students and parents will then collect the money and return to the MET.

This fun event will be held at Terrace Lanes on April 26th at 1pm. Terrace Lanes is located at 12 W. College Terrace, Frederick, MD 21701

The MET pays for the bowling, pizza, fries, and drinks for the students.

Seeing the positive impact that the MET educational programs and the MET performances have had on youth, seniors, the area businesses, and our community's identity has been a welcomed and energizing experience. The ongoing challenge is to continue to raise the bar on the work - constantly make it better - while continuing to have that positive impact that theatre education and participation bring. We cannot deny how wonderful the energy of the MET has reminded us that theatre is a place for life-long learning, discovery, and for giving back. Please join us in this entertaining event in support of entertaining events to come.

Sincerely,

Jennica P. W. Kalbaugh (Interested Parent and Community Member)
